*H*appiness is...

. . . Being A Senior . . .

There is a special thrill about being a Senior. The prestige, Senior privileges (although few), and the fact that our class is second to none, contribute to the overall happiness of being a Senior. The Seniors seem to be separate from the rest of the high school. We have a room all our own, we leave first after assembly, slave on the yearbook, take tests continously, wear class rings, try on caps and gowns, have certain fringe benefits, and do many, many more things that the other classes never dream of doing. Happiness really is being a Senior.

Seniors always leave first after assembly, and either sit on the front row or on the floor.

Above. Senior John Fowler was a master of taking advantage of fringe benefits.

It's g-o-o-d!
(Senior play)

Above, the seniors are preparing to leave on the Senior Trip on the morning of May 1st.

Being a Senior is being able to show off class rings.

More goes into the senior play than meets the eye.

Left. When pressures are finally released, a realization of the last days of high school is brought to mind.

Above. The last few days at Berea High were spent working on Class Night activities. Class Night was termed a huge success.

. . . The Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet . . .

The theme of the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet was "Seventh Heaven". At the banquet, the seniors found out why they could not get into heaven and discovered that there are not too many secrets at BHS. When we finished the great meal, left Boone Tavern, and arrived at the gym, we viewed a beautifully decorated gymnasium. So beautiful, in fact, even the seniors themselves had to admit that it was the best Prom ever.

Where the action was: the '66-'67 Junior-Senior Prom.

Good food, good entertainment, and good company helped the banquet become a success?

At the Prom, Jane Britton and Donald Blackburn crowned Beverly Johnson and Abby Scruggs Prom King and Queen.

Jerry Tull, Senior Class President, puts in his two cents' worth.

. . . School Spirit . . .

School spirit is the thing that keeps a school going even though it is months until the next vacation, and the teachers seem to be smothering everybody with homework. When the ball team wins its game, there's an air of happiness all over the school, and the homework is not so tough after all. But what if the team does not leave the court in victory? School spirit prevails because the fans fill the bleachers at the next home game and cheer all the more loudly.

A tense moment can end in sadness or glee.

The faculty takes part in school spirit, too. Above left and right; the faculty-senior ball game. At

Even though it snowed and lots of the floats were ruined, the Homecoming Parade carried on as planned. (Right)

Left and Right: The Cheerleaders get most of the credit for keeping school spirit alive, and they sure earn it.

. . . Graduation . . .

Commencement was held May 26th, 1967. In some ways graduation was an ending; in some, a beginning. It was an end to all the wonderful days at Berea High School. Saying goodbye to dear old BHS and walking from the building for the last time as High School students was just as hard as saying good-bye to an old friend. It also was the beginning of a whole new future; for some, college life. Few seniors gave graduation much thought until the very night Commencement began. Whenever graduation was mentioned, it was tossed off with little discussion, and usually with only carefree remarks. Even when the caps and gowns arrived, we still didn't realize how close the end was. When that night came, however, we were suddenly awakened, and it seemed to be all over much too soon.

Deciding on what to go where, and then putting it there is much more difficult than it seems.

The yearbook staff this year has really done a fine job to summarize the 1967 year at Berea High School in these few pages. We feel that we have done an exceptional job, but it would have been impossible without help from our advisor, Mrs. Cook. Without her continuous pushing, we would never have made any of our deadlines. We hope that this volume of the BHS yearbook will occupy a special place on your bookshelves, and that you will keep it close at hand for frequent reference. We hope that this is an annual that each buyer can enjoy over and over again.

Our hard-working editors, Larry Wyatt and Rieta Botkin.

The editors worked closely with Mr. Rivard, our expert. It almost takes an expert of another kind to deal with him.

This year the Varsity Cheerleaders showed a lot of pep and support for the Pirates. Pep rallies, bonfires, signs in the hall, and lots of spirit--these things are typical of the BHS Cheerleaders of '66-'67.

'66 Football Team

"Blue Grass Conference Champions"

The Berea High Pirates showed good balance in football this year with a 7-3 season. Next year will find three starters missing from the line-up (right). From left: Senior tailback Larry Wyatt, wingback Carl Hazelwood, and tackle Steve Dyer. The team suffered two losses by only one point, and another by six. They showed great hustle and desire under the leadership of a new head coach, Larry Marmie, a graduate of Eastern. At right, Don Blackburn grabs a pass from quarterback Green en route to the goal line during the hard-fought Central ball game.

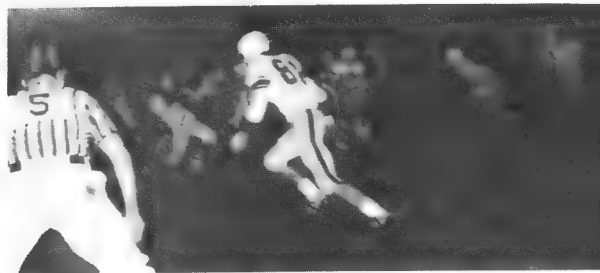

Below, Pirates dig in on defense as Central charges. The key word on defense is "kill". Team defense drew praise from coaches all season.

STARTING OFFENSE: End - Blackburn; Tackle - Dyer; Guard - Gadd; Center - Rowlette; Guard - Reynolds; Tackle - Johnson; End - Coyle; BACKFIELD: Wyatt - Tailback; Shupe - Fullback; Green - Quarterback; Hazelwood - Wingback; Broddus - Tailback.

Hazelwood is finally wrestled down after a twenty-yard gain following a pass from Green.

As the Pirates charge, Green, with ball, looks for fullback Shupe on an attempt at a successful off-tackle play.

STARTING DEFENSE: FRONT ROW: End - Devere; Tackle - Johnson; Guard - Isaacs; Guard - Miracle; Tackle - Gillespie; End - Dyer. BACKS: Halfback - Hazelwood; Halfback - Wyatt; Linebacker - Gadd; Safety - Duerson; Halfback - Baugh; Linebacker - Reynolds.

Dubbed the "Muddiest Game of the Year" by all players was the Homecoming game with Sayre. A decisive victory, however, made up for the miserable conditions.

Right. Junior quarterback Glyn Green was voted Most Valuable Player by his team.

Below. The Pirates made a good showing in the conference by placing nine out of eleven on the All-Conference team. From left; Don Blackburn, Danny Johnson, Steve Dyer, Bobby Gadd, Paul Reynolds, Carl Hazelwood, Glyn Green, Don Shupe, Mike Coyle. Below are coaches Floyd Hines, Bill Palahunich, Larry Marmie, and Glyndon Miracle.

This year the fans and team suffered a long, cold season. A 5-18 season isn't much of a season to shout about, but there were several times during the year when the Pirates showed some terrific basketball skill and always showed a lot of hustle and spirit.

The team saw a new coach in Chuck Eckler, a graduate of Berea, where he started on the Mountaineer roster. At right are the Seniors, top: Scruggs, Herron, Pennington, Hazelwood, Coach Eckler, and Tillery.

LEFT. Boone Tillery (no. 43) lays the ball in after a fast break down the floor in the Foundation game. We won by one point in three overtimes.

BELOW. Sophomore forward Mike Coyle shoots over a defensive man for a quick two points in the Mount Vernon game.

Faithful Belle Jackson kept the books for BHS's ball teams.

BELOW. Senior Abby Scruggs (25) came through in the clutch at the foul line often.

Mike Coyle (Above) jumps for the Pirates to begin the three-over-time loss against the Foundation Lions.

Baseball . . .

From the standpoint of wins and losses, BHS baseball experienced a "so-so" season. We won five and lost seven, but a couple of these losses were by only one point. Coach Charles Eckler points out that his team played very good ball and feels that his boys had a good season.

Senior Sammy Cornelison was the leading hitter, and Junior Glyn Green had the most wins from the pitching mound.

Junior Ronnie Devere grabs the ball and prepares to throw to home.

Larry French showed lots of promise as a pitcher.

Coach Eckler warms up team with in-field practice.

Sammy Cornelison connects for a base hit.

Right: Seniors Jerry Tull and Sammy Cornelison.

THE BOY'S AND GIRL'S TRACK TEAMS

This year Berea High School added a new sport, girls' track. The girls, ranging in age from twelve to seventeen, participated in local track meets and in the Regional meet at Richmond, Kentucky. For the girls' first year they each should be commended for such fine performances.

The boys had four meets. Lexington Catholic and Tates Creek supplied tough competition, but Coach Palahunich said that he felt as though Berea High made a good showing. At the Bluegrass Conference meet, the Pirates took a runner-up, losing by only four points. In the regional, the boys earned 31 points, and Steve Kiteck won the high jump. He represented B. H. S. at the state meet.

Both of these teams were coached by Mr. Bill Palahunich.

. . . Happiness is Having Time To Goof Off A Little . . .

Yep. As usual, old Abby Scruggs is right in the middle of everything.

RIGHT. "Let's see now. Uh, angle ACB is 60 degrees because ABC is equalateral. No, ABC is isoscles ...or is it because OB and OD are equal...no...uh, well, OD does equal 8", and..FORGET IT!!"

Above. Aha! Caught you again, Mrs. Cook! Now these parties have got to stop!

Larry Wyatt and Rieta Botkin found that being editors for the yearbook was not easy!

In November, construction of a twelve-mile section of Interstate-75 was completed. A ceremony was held and Gov. Edward Breathitt himself was present. School was dismissed for the occasion.

ABOVE. As in most opportunities to leave school, the Senior Class was well represented.

. . . Dramatics . . .

Mrs. Cook's Dramatics class showed much talent in the three plays presented to the student body. Below are pictures taken during the Christmas play, which was completely written by the dramatics class. It was sort of a modern version of Dickens's A Christmas Carol. It was said to be the first play to be put on "in the round" at Berea High. Special lighting and sound effects made this play a great success.

Jimmy Pennington played the part of "Pinch", which would correspond to Scrooge in Dickens's play.

"Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we diet!"

Had it not been for the Senior Glee Club, the play would have been a complete failure.

Left. Jerry Tull, the man with the big sound, tells BMOC Abby Scruggs a thing or three.

Right. We just gotta get outa this place.

This year's Senior Class turned out to be the most unique Senior Class in the history of Berea High. Each day on the bulletin, under the "tardy or absent" section, the column of names beneath the heading Seniors was invariably the longest. We feel that this is some sort of record. Also, the '67 yearbook is the best ever (to which we are sure all will agree). The Senior play was a great success, not to mention the fact that we had a great time on the Senior trip.

The Seniors were always being excused from classes to to something or to go somewhere. Practice for the Christmas play was worth about a week of classes; then there was the Speech Festival; each Monday the Honors English class worked on the yearbook; we were constantly getting out to take pictures or sell ads, go to yearbook clinics, and...well, when you get right down to it, we didn't come to school but two or three days the whole year!

BEST DRESSED

We, the Seniors of 1967, want to devote this place in our yearbook to Mrs. Cook, our sponsor. She has served not only as our Senior sponsor, but also as our friend throughout our junior high and high school days. Mrs. Cook, we shall never forget you.

Smile! You're on candid camera!

You tell him, Mrs. Cook!

Mrs. Cook and the Dramatics Class enjoy a Christmas party.

Through both good and bad times she has understood and helped us through our Senior year.

Now, Seniors!

It is truly hard to believe that the silly little faces on this page developed into the fine Seniors of '67. The names have cunningly been omitted to protect the innocent.

. . . Junior Class . . .

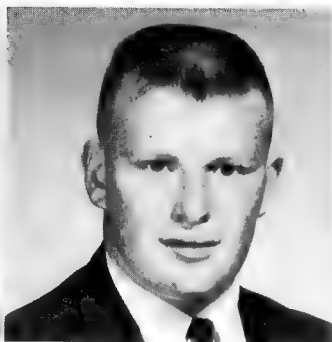

Donald Blackburn - Secretary, Kenny Duerson - President, Ann Barton - Treasurer, Glyn Green - Vice-President, Charlie Evans - Reporter

The Junior Class has the responsibility of sponsoring the Junior-Senior prom. A great deal of work goes into raising money, planning the banquet, and decorating the gym, but all will agree that the effort was well worth it. The Juniors have priority on selling things to make money for the occasion and they took full advantage of it. If it wasn't candy, it was Stanley sales, and if it wasn't Stanley sales, it was magazines, or Pirate license plates, or...well, you name it.

The only thing that the Juniors aren't taking into consideration is that next year, as Seniors, they will be twice as busy with the yearbook, the senior play, dramatics plays, planning for the senior trip, five times as much homework, college entrance tests, gobs and gobs of research papers, and...well, you name it.

Mike Baugh - President, Linda Owens - Treasurer, Mike Coyle - Vice-President,
Eddie Mac Wray - Reporter, Ticky Harrison - Secretary

Just about the biggest thrill of the Sophomore Class would be the fact that they get the opportunity to take Phys. Ed. and Health. The boys are eager to get in those Health classes and learn about the "birds and bees", but all the good pictures have been cut out of the films. (Dang it!). The girls, of course, are looking forward to the sessions in folk dancing taught by the "Fred Astaire of Berea", Bill Palahunich.

. . . Freshman Class . . .

Well, the Freshmen! The Freshmen got a real shock when they found out that they didn't feel a bit older when they entered high school. The Freshmen also found out that a Freshman was the lowest being on earth. A famous example of mistreatment is the annual "informal" initiation of the Freshman ball players. The girls are confronted with the FHA initiation. (Ugh!) But no matter how impossible it now seems, these poor kids will be Seniors. (Heaven forbid!)

Principal: PHILLIP COX

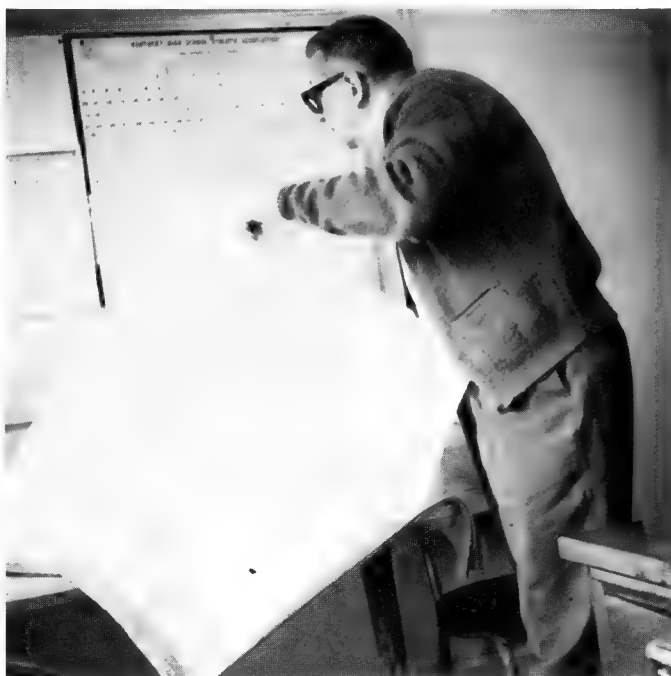

The Berea High student body found a new hand on the reins of BHS. Mr. Phillip Cox from Ohio took over the demanding job of Principal. Many a student has faced the icy stare of Mr. Cox in an attempt to acquire an excused absence slip. The episode often ends in tragedy.

Mr. Singleton has served Berea High for seventeen years. His never-ending concern for the student body and unfaltering leadership have gained the respect of countless students.

NEW HUTCHINS LIBRARY

The new library, a memorial to President Francis S. Hutchins and his father William J. Hutchins, has been open since early March. As was true of the Carnegie Library, the new library serves the entire community and not only the college. Most Berea children, both in elementary and secondary grades, have already used the new library; but many adults have not. All Bereans are invited to inspect, and use, this new enrichment to the community.

The seating and lighting facilities in the new building make for exceptional comfort. The books are now available on the open-stack plan, which means that after you locate a book in the catalog, you may go to the stacks yourself, where you may find other books by the same author or on the same subject that you did not know about previously. A check system is used at the door as in all large libraries with open-stacks.

The Hutchins Library is open from 7:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. Mondays through Fridays, and from 7:30 to 4:30 on Saturdays.

View from the mezzanine showing the circulation and reserve desks, the card catalog, (background), and some of the open stacks on the mezzanine level.

WATER AND ELECTRIC SERVICE

During the past year the waterworks completed an extensive expansion program. A new elevated storage tank was built in the west end. Larger, 12-inch feeder lines were laid and put into service from the west end to Lorraine Court. A new high-lift pumping station was put into operation. These improvements not only assure a sufficient water flow to all areas of the town but also provide for better fire protection.

In addition, the college has made a study of the available water from the entire watershed area, which includes other locations besides the present three lakes. The study covered increased water needs based on the anticipated growth of the community in the next 15 to 20 years.

Negotiations are under way to get permits from the state to put steel encasements under I-75 to bring water service to the far side of the superhighway. This area already has electric service. Also, new heavier wire has been strung from Union Church to Chestnut & Broadway as a protection against blackout during storms.

'Cisco!

Cut it off, cut it all off!

And this, dear hearts,
is our Principal and Senior Sponsor!

One more time and I'll turn you into a toad!

NEVER AGAIN
(Senior Play)

I remember when I was a
SENIOR

Ain't I just
GREATEST!

The morning after the night before?

Just call me Letha!

He's broken down again!

From the Editors.

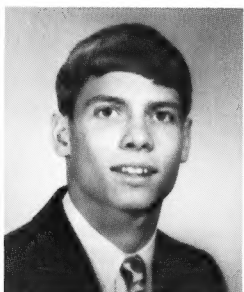

RIETA BOTKIN

We want to take this opportunity to thank the faculty for their patience and understanding. To the Annual Staff we extend our greatest thanks and appreciation for their time and effort in compiling this yearbook.

We have worked hard, at all hours, and in many places (Upper Left) to bring this 1967 Pirate to you. We sincerely hope we have satisfactorily covered the events of the past year.

May you cherish this chapter in the life of your school always and not place it on your shelves only to gather cobwebs, but thumb through it often to relive the days of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven.
